Coming Together

In 2009 we presented 40 'homegrown' artworks for the first time. In 2010 we exhibited 40 artworks in 'our place'. In 2011 we will once again have 40 artworks coming together for the Annual Feast Emerging Artist Group Exhibition at the Hub to celebrate the creativity, passion and quality of Queer Adelaide's local artists.

- A). Sean Miller - My art describes gender and sexual diversity. I am a Transman and I have used art to learn about myself and the world around me, but most importantly, where I fit in to the world around me.
- B). Patrick A Manimaran - To experience abandonment by a loved one can be a sorrow that cuts deep. This series of paintings documents the journey of a man healing a wounded soul.
- C). Tracey Hansell - Tracey's works capture a moment...a frame of time that would otherwise be forgotten. Her work varies from moody charcoal nudes, to eccentric motion filled photographs, eclectic combinations of sculptural pieces and more.
- D). Michelle Lannil - As a contemporary abstract artist who works with watercolour, acrylic paint, charcoal and inks. I create work to heal others, make them feel calm, together and enlightened - a part of the community.
- E). Thanh Vu - The colour pink, abstraction and the occasional glimpse of nudity.
- F). Huntress - Turn your head, look at those people you give a sideways glance. Journey into the minds of many mental and physical health sufferers, they are all around you. See if you can spot them in the images.
- G). Ania Szawczukiewicz - A photographic exhibition that has captured moments in time here and now, or, there and then from Australia and abroad.
- H). Samuel Bovenlander - My latest body of work Butch Fairies celebrates masculine male beauty and explores its connection with men's sexuality and identity. My work is camp, full of humour and my passion for eccentricity.
- I). Simon Simonson - I advertise my work as quality, affordable art. A rendering of trees, and the rhythms of nature in the local rural landscape. My commitment is to render the beauty, the darkness and the spirit of Nature.

Evolve Love

This installation by GSspirit explores shared heart love through visual art, digital projection and sonic form. It incorporates free dance and geometric forms expressing the queer spirit of compassion and inner expression by coming together through the way of the heart. With our bodies fully illuminated from within we can learn to connect from the sexual to spiritual on new levels with each other.

Transforming Pixels

This photography project explores the lived experience of 10 gender diverse individuals from Brisbane. The project consisted of 8 workshops where participants learnt photographic and semiotic skills in order to describe their personal stories. Highlights included Skype lectures by Del La Grace Volcano, US photographer LW and a private screening of Bindi Cole's 41 Sista Girls.

Proudly supported by the Lord Mayor's Suburban Initiative Fund and The Gabba Ward

Camp Site Mural

First year Live Design students from the Adelaide College of the Arts have created a series of panels that will line Feast's Camp Site at the Hub. Proportional colour and textural inventories have been extracted from the site as an aesthetic of place. Large coloured panels have been drawn from materials found near the Camp Site. These large abstracted evocations are available for purchase.

RAW by Anja Halstead

Anja Halstead has been fascinated by what she terms 'the ever changing and undefinable world of art' since childhood. She feels constricted by a repressive society, notions of safety and an obsession within her culture of validating the opinions of individuals regardless of the malevolence of intent. Anja's artist voice is hungry to be heard, as a political and emotional commentator without wearing commonly misplaced labels. For more information phone the centre.

Alian

Alian articulates a language of exclusion that has intergenerational significance for Aboriginal Australia. It is also a combination of the artists' names.

FAMILY MATTERS: A WIRADJURI STORY

Ian Willding pays homage to his mother and her nine siblings. This work represents nearly a decade of family history research where Ian has traced his Wiradjuri bloodlines, learning mainly from his mother before her passing.

MUSEUM OF UN-NATURAL HISTORY: BOW DOWN TO THE SOVEREIGN GODDESS

Ali Baker is a Miming woman who works in film, photography, textile and performance. Her work provides an inter-textual construction of the EPIDERMILUMN (the object becomes human) that turns the gaze on the white nations' practices of colonialism and nationalism and re-centres Aboriginal sovereign positions.

And That's It

An exhibition by Dani Marti that explores intimacy. A challenging video portrait of William, a Scottish man in his mid-60's, who only allowed himself to experience intimacy 10 years ago, after his mother's death. Also a 3D giant cod-piece made of stainless steel, rope, glass, magnetic beads, and rubber, is a homage to Picasso.
